ATTORNEY CALLS DRY RAID DEATH WANTON MURDER

Investigations Started To Determine Facts In Slaying

NO CHARGES FILED IN FATAL SHOOTING

Claim Gallon of Wine Is Found In Home By Officers

Aurora, Ill., March 27.—With the entire city of Aurora stirred to a frenzy over the killing of Mrs. Joseph De King in her home by dry raiders, and with the citizens demanding a thorough sifting of facts and the fixing of responsibility, two routine investigations were under way today.

One is being directed by Coroner Henry J. Vierke whose only official interest is with the slaying.

The other is headed by State's Atty. George Carbery of Kane county, who, through the grand jury will inquire not only into the killing of Mrs. De King and the wounding of one of the raiders by her 12-year-old son, but also into the question of the legality of the raid.

State's Atty. Carbery, who was elected on a "dry reform" ticket, pledged to mop up Kane county, is quoted as saying that he is "100 per cent behind the raiders."

Woman Mortally Wounded

Mrs. De King was shot in the abdomen and mortally wounded after she is said to have threatened the raiders with a gun because they had beaten her husband insensible. Seeing his mother shot down, the boy, Gerald, seized his father's revolver and wounded one of the raiders.

The action took place in the dining room of the De King home after the raiders forced entrance to search for liquor. They claim they found a gallon of wine in the house.

Robert A. Mitty, formerly an assistant United States attorney now counsel for the De King family, declared that unless immediate action is taken against the raiders, whom he accused of "wanton murder," he will petition for a special grand jury and the appointment of a special prosecutor to take the case out of Carbery's hands.

In a preliminary statement, Carbery declared he would back up the raiding officers, including Deputy Sheriff Roy Smith, who did the killing. In a later and less emotional statement, however, the prosecutor said he would present all the evidence to the grand jury and let that body come to its own decision.

Meanwhile, said Carbery, there will be no arrests—neither of Smith, in connection with the killing, nor of De King for resisting the raiders.

Dog Plays In Role Of Mailman; Aids Ohio Farm Owner

London, O., March 27.—A dog on the farm of Bob Beschler, former big league baseball player, living three miles north of here, spurs Joe Tway, rural mail carrier, the trouble of personally delivering the mail to the house box.

Each morning, according to Tway, the dog is waiting at the side of the road for the mail. If the delivery consists of letters and papers the dog takes them in his mouth.

In case of a package or a box, the dog will trot to the house drop the letters on the porch and then return and carry or drag the package, depending upon its weight.

Beschler declared that the dog picked the trick up himself and refuses to allow anyone else to receive the mail.

The Fellowship supper and opening session of the conference will be on Friday evening at the Memorial building, and it is reported that already a large number of tickets have been sold for the supper, which will be served at 6:30 o'clock. The Saturday conference will be held in the Christian church.

Egg Hunt Planned For Saturday

Joe Kelley, manager of the Memorial building, states that he has received a radiogram from headquarters of the Easter Rabbit that the egg hunt for Salem kiddies will be an event this year as usual. The affair is set for Saturday at 10 a. m.

The rabbit stated in his message that past experience proves Centennial park is an ideal spot for the fun and suggested that it be held there. In case the weather was unfavorable, the radiogram stated, Kelley was to make arrangements for an indoor hunt. After pondering over this Kelley decided the Memorial building would be the best in case of rain.

The rabbit also informed Kelley that the demand for eggs was so heavy this year that he was forced to seek aid and asked that Salem people donate eggs for the hunt in order that there will be plenty to supply all. Those desiring to aid the rabbit are to leave eggs at Memorial building Friday.

Hoover Orders New Phone Location In White House Office

Washington, March 17.—President Hoover has decided the White House should be equipped with some of the appliances of modern business.

For the first time in history a telephone has been placed on the president's desk in the executive offices. Hitherto there had been no phone and when the president wished to talk to someone he had to leave his desk and go outside his own office to a booth.

Special lines have been laid to the desks of all cabinet officers, so that the chief executive may call any of his advisers by his own desk.

A glass top also has been put on the president's desk.

Mrs. Hoover is carrying out her ideas in the mansion proper, too. Electricians were busy today putting in floor plugs and rearranging lighting wires so that the living quarters will present a more homelike atmosphere.

A rehearsal of the patriarchal degree was held. It will be conferred at a meeting on April 9.

The young man's home is at Ada, according to police.

PLANES PLAYING LARGE PART IN FIGHTING REBELS

Heavy Bombs Demoralize Rebel Concentration At Jimenez

Mexico City, March 27.—Two Major federal offensives against the rebels in Sinaloa and Chihuahua were underway today.

With thirteen thousand fully equipped troops under his command, General J. Andreu Almazan moved northward from Bermujillo today against the rebel concentration at Jimenez, Chihuahua.

In the west General L. Cardenas moved northward out of Tepic, Nayarit, at the head of 12,000 troops in pursuit of the rebel forces under Gen. Manzo which had beleaguered the federal garrison at Mazatlan. The vanguard of this force has already advanced beyond Rosario, Sinaloa, 60 miles south of Mazatlan.

In Jalisco, another federal expeditionary force of 5,000 men led by Gen. Saturnino Cedillo was waging a concerted offensive against the rebels in that state threatening to cut off lines of communication of Gen. Calles' main force in Central Mexico. The rebels in Jalisco are commanded by Gen. A. Gorosietia and are holding several strategic towns.

Planes Drop Bombs

General Almazan reported to President Portes Gil that his aviators were raising havoc with the rebel forces at Jimenez by dropping powerful bombs over the city.

In the west the airplanes were also taking an active part in the warfare between the opposing forces. In a belated communication to the president, Gen. Carrillo, federal commander at Mazatlan described a spectacular air battle between a federal and rebel plane during the closing hours of the siege of the city.

An unidentified rebel flier flew over the city and Lieut. Jorge Llerenas, federal aviator went up to meet him. At 4,000 feet, the pair of air-fighters met a few miles east of Mazatlan. For ten minutes they whirled about each other exchanging machine gun fusillades. Then the rebel aviator beat a retreat northward and suddenly swooped down in a forced landing.

Federal troops later found his wrecked machine but the aviator apparently escaped alive and rejoined his forces.

SALEM SCHOOL NURSE REPORTS PROGRESS IN WORK WITH STUDENTS

Many Pupils Need Attention and Show Great Change In Scholastic Work After Conditions Are Corrected, States Health Observer

The preservation of the health of children enrolled in public schools of Salem presents one of the greatest and most important problems included in the modern educational system.

So states Mrs. Ruth Kase, public school health nurse, in her report to J. S. Alan, superintendent of Salem's public school system.

"The general principle of school nursing is educating school children to keep well and to improve as highly as possible, those who are not in good health. A physical defect forms the basis for a mental handicap. Good health, good scholarship and citizenship go hand in hand," Mrs. Kase states.

The majority of the pupils enrolled in Salem's seven public schools need some medical supervision, her report points out, 94 per cent of the total enrollment in the schools having defective teeth, and 12 per cent defective vision.

Eye conditions which need the attention of an oculist are common among students, but frequently, following the proper attention or the fitting of glasses, the children, who formerly, due to their handicap were fairly poor students, prove themselves very good scholars, the nurse reports.

"Examinations show that poor teeth are the most prevalent of all defects and also the most neglected. People in general do not seem to realize the importance of the situation. Well cared-for teeth eliminate decayed and abscessed teeth which may be the primary cause of serious infection."

"The dental work, sponsored by the schools, though limited, is doing a tremendous amount of good. Out of 22 children treated, only three had previously visited a dental office. The school treatment was the actual saving of eight children's health," Mrs. Kase declares.

"It is most interesting to note the physical and mental improvement in a child, created by the removal of infected teeth. In one particular case the child was a poor scholar, listless and inattentive, following the removal of three abscessed teeth there is a remarkable change. Her appearance is improved, her cheeks have become rosy, and she appears to have taken a new lease on life."

FREEDOM OF SEAS TOPIC DISCUSSED

Canada, Great Britain Preparing Notes To Send Stimson

Washington, March 27.—So serious are the international complications growing out of the Coast Guard's sinking of the Canadian auxiliary schooner I'm Alone, by gunfire, that the whole question of the freedom of the seas threatens to be injected into the negotiations between the Canadian and British governments and the state department.

Moving cautiously to be sure of their facts, the Canadians and British are preparing to confront Secretary of State Stimson—he will have taken over his duties by that time—with notes sent the British government in 1914-15 on the very issues brought up by the fate of the I'm Alone.

The Coast Guard, according to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, acted under the tariff act of 1922 which extended the territorial jurisdiction of the United States to the 12-mile limit. Under date of Dec. 26, 1914, this government is on record as not recognizing "presumptions" set up by Great Britain in connection with seizure of vessels for the purpose of examination under municipal authority contrary to international law.

The British declare the American tariff act is in the nature of a mun (Continued on Page 4)

OFFICIALS WILL LET CONTRACT IN FEW DAYS

Present Structure Gives Way to Modern Bank Home

WORK TO START DURING APRIL

Cost of Project Said To Be $150,000; New Equipment

Contract for the construction of a new, two-story First National bank building, at an estimated cost of $150,000 will be awarded early next week at a meeting of the bank's officers and board of directors, Fred R. Pow, president, announced today.

Bids for the new structure were opened Tuesday, and work is expected to start within 15 days following award of the contract. Five companies placed bids on the project.

The new building according to the plans of Charles F. Owsley, Youngstown architect, will be built of limestone with polished granite face approximately 50 feet in height. The inner furnishings will include modern banking equipment, mahogany woodwork, with marble flooring. It will be almost the same height as the present building, which is three stories.

Each story in the new building will be 21 feet in height.

Work Starts Soon

Work on razing of the present building will start about April 15. The new structure will have a frontage of 44 feet on Main st., and 93 feet on Broadway.

The stairway east of the bank and the alley in its rear, will be taken in to increase floor space.

The second floor will be completed but will not be divided into offices, according to present plans until later in the year.

It is estimated that construction work will take about nine months.

The building will be modern, Pow announced. Business windows will be installed on two sides of the bank, seven on each side, with a lobby in the center.

Vault To Be Moved

The vault will be removed from its present location to the rear, and will be connected with bank by a passage way, constructed according to modern banking plans.

At the right, in the rear of the lobby and business office, will be a reception room for guests and visitors.

The First National bank is the largest banking institution in Columbiana county.

Assets during the past year showed a marked increase, almost reaching the four-million-dollar mark. Plans for construction of a new building have been under consideration for some time, and was found necessary this year, due to the great amount of business transacted and the promising outlook for still greater business conditions in the future.

The bank building was constructed in 1890, for use as a concert hall. The bank was started by Alexander Pow, grandfather of the present president, Aug. 1, 1863, and since that time has been in active and successful existence as one of Eastern Ohio's leading banks.

L. H. Colley, cashier, Arthur Stark is assistant cashier. The board of directors follows:

Jacob Ambler, Louis Brush, D. B. McCune, F. R. Pow, F. H. Sebring, Jr., H. H. Sharp, and A. O. Silver.

LAW, TO SURVIVE, MUST BE OBEYED

Report came out from the federal capital, last week, that official Washington was greatly worried over the possibility that the incoming president might attempt to put it on the water wagon. What must be its feeling today in the light of the president's utterances, on the subject of prohibition, in his inaugural address? For the first time in our recollection, an incoming president handled the liquor question, so far as observance of the prohibition law is concerned, without gloves. No matter what else may be said of the inaugural address, all must concede that President Hoover's words on the subject of the duty of citizens with regard to the observance of the eighteenth amendment were frank, direct and courageous throughout.

And why should not cabinet officers, members of congress—any and all officials—observe the law they have sworn they will obey? What possible excuse can members of the two houses of congress, let us say, offer for attempting to place themselves above the law they made possible?

Mr. Hoover knows, and members of congress and others in the official life of the government know, that nothing has had greater effect in bringing the prohibition law into disrespect and making its enforcement difficult than the general knowledge that it is violated, steadily and consistently violated, by those largely responsible for it. It has been the boring from within which has proved the greatest handicap in the attempt to enforce it.

As President Hoover made plain in his inaugural address, those so-called good citizens who are violators of the prohibition law, can not escape responsibility for the crime which they have aided and abetted by their encouragement of the illegal liquor traffic. They are affording crime the sinews by which it is carrying on its war against society.

And if those in private life must bear such responsibility, how much greater must be that of the officials of the government sworn to obey the law?

No one today may safely say what will be the outcome of the enactment and ratification of the prohibition amendment. The president has referred to it as a great experiment. Unquestionably it is that, but whether it is to prove successful or unsuccessful is "on the knees of the gods."

Certainly the chances for it to prove a successful experiment are greatly lessened if those responsible for it, those sworn to execute it, those sworn to obey it, are to hold it in scorn. What chance is that that a law will come into public esteem when newspapers feel justified in making reference to violations of it in senate and house cloakrooms, to violations of it in the homes of high officials? What chance for its survival in its present form when members of the legislative branch of the government from the floors of the senate and house chide their fellow-members for their hypocrisy in voting dry and living wet?

What Others Say

TAKING IT PHILOSOPHICALLY

Political observers are amazed at the academic calm which prevails throughout Great Britain with a quinquennial general election only two months ahead. The unusual placidity is all the more inexplicable in view of the fact that a complete destruction of Tory ascendancy is among the recognized possibilities. The Tory government, which for five years has been operating with the support of a top-heavy parliamentary majority, is far from popular. Its great strength in the beginning was due both to a splitting of the progressive vote between the Liberals and Laborites, and to the defection of many progressive voters who were disgusted with the Liberal disintegration and the failure of the Liberal-Laborite coalition. No one, not even among the Tory leaders, believes that a majority of the British electorate is in sympathy with the re-actionary and imperialistic policies of the Baldwin government. And yet the best bet is that the Tories will win in May. The reason is that the old Liberal party is hopelessly moribund. Many Englishmen who have no admiration for Baldwin and Chamberlain and who would vote for Liberal candidates if they could do so without wasting their votes will vote once more for the Conservatives rather than give their support to the Laborites. Others will consider the Laborites the lesser of two evils and will swell the Labor vote without enthusiasm.

The Labor party will gain, the Conservatives will lose, but the Conservative can suffer huge losses and still maintain a parliamentary majority. The indifference displayed seems to be due to a general feeling that what is to be will be. With the Liberal party out of the running because of the suicidal inefficiency of its recent leadership, a great many intelligent British voters contemplate with lethargy an election which they believe can not go right, however it goes—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

READ THE WANT COLUMNS

WHEN YOU YEARN FOR LOVED SURROUNDINGS

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
(United States Senator from New York)

All the world took a sympathetic interest in the welfare of King George of England. His modesty and goodness of heart apparently endeared him to everybody. The medical bulletins recording the progress of his illness, were read by millions.

A few weeks ago the king was removed from the palace in London to the south of England. I was interested in this particular statement in the newspaper account of his transfer: "The location for King George's recuperation was chosen largely for the mental benefit it would afford."

DR. COPELAND hoped he would derive from its proximity to the sea, which he loves and where he was trained as a sailor when a prince.

Have you ever been homesick?

Did you ever long for the scenes and friends of your childhood?

When you have been ill with a fever, did you yearn for the cold water from "Palmer's Spring," or some deep well, where you were wont to satisfy your thirst in the days of long ago?

Of course you have. I have—

The Stars Say—

For Thursday, March 28

THE sidereal operations for this day, both by mutual and lunar aspect, must be read as portentous. There is augury of many phases of calamity and disturbance, physical as well as concerning business interests. These menacing conditions may be mitigated by prudence and wariness. It will be a particularly lively day, with much ado about contracts and arrangement of affairs, and there is prospect of an unforeseen change; but these should not be engineered with undue haste, impetuosity or precipitancy. Discretion, calmness and control may save the day.

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year calling for the utmost calmness, good management and wise counsel in order to keep affairs from calamitous conditions which menace the physical well-being as well as other interests. Affairs will be lively and interesting, with some opportunities for change and new contracts or agreements, but these hold possibility for disaster unless calmness and control be exerted. A child born on this day may have a tendency to rash and impulsive actions, but will be versatile and clever.

No accidents are so unlucky but that the prudent may draw some advantage from them.—Proverb.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a yellow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil as a substitute for calomel to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c, 25c and 50c.

is something wrong with you if you are in constant battle with things as they are.

It is your duty to yourself and to those who love you, to keep sweet and calm, and content as may be with existing conditions. You must strive of course to improve things, but don't fret and fume, if you find it out of the question to make them better. Try to adjust yourself to things as they are, if they cannot be bettered.

Of all the difficult ailments to heal, the hardest is broken-hearted-

STIMSON BUSY AT NEW TASK

Delicate Problems Facing
Secretary of State On Arrival

Washington, March 27.—Henry L. Stimson, the new secretary of state, figuratively took off his coat today and started to work on a set of problems probably more numerous and complicated than ever before faced an incoming minister.

Stimson will not actually take the helm until Friday, but he started to function within half an hour after he had reached Washington, and the next few days will be devoted to hard study of the entanglements he has inherited.

In almost every direction the new secretary looked today he saw work ahead, and much of it delicate and extremely important.

He inherits revolutions in Mexico and China, with their inevitable complications concerning American citizens and their property.

Even with Canada, the traditional friend of the United States, there is an acute controversy—over the gun-fire sinking of the Canadian schooner I'm Alone 200 miles at sea by rum-chasing coast guard cutters.

Half a dozen problems faced him from Europe as he surveyed his desk—the forthcoming arms conference, reparations, the still unrattled Franco-American debt settlement, and the world court being among the most important.

COURT NEWS

Damage Suits Filed

Two damage suits have been filed in common pleas court against the Pennsylvania Railroad company, claiming a total of $50,000 as a result of the death following a train and automobile collision on the East

Liverpool-Youngstown road at 8:30 o'clock the evening of Dec. 4, last. George Wines, administrator of the estate of Cecil Wines has sued the company for $25,000 damages, while Nelson Hayes Farley, administrator of the estate of George J. Farley, deceased has sued for $25,000 damages.

Both petitions filed by Attorney W. A. O'Grady of Wellsville relate that a Ft. Wayne train was proceeding eastward over the crossing, and that this movement was reversed without a watchman or trainman guarding the crossing as provided by the established rules of the carrier. As the train was being in the reverse or westward movement on an eastbound track, it struck an automobile in which Cecil Wines and George Farley were riding.

Auto Accident Suit

Ruth Oberour, 28 and married, through her counsel, Brookes & Thompson has filed a $20,000 damage action against Fred H. Cartwright of East Liverpool, as a result of an automobile collision at 5:30 o'clock, July 24, last year, near the intersection of the Calcutta road and the Calcutta-Y. & O. sub-station road.

It is claimed in the petition that the car, owned by Cartwright, was then being driven by Thomas Pussey, an agent of the owner, and that Pussey failed to observe the warning signs at the intersection, thereby being negligent. The plaintiff was severely injured as a result of the wreck.

Seek Divorce

Ada Bettis, through her counsel E. P. Spedel of Alliance, has filed suit for divorce in common pleas court against her husband, Manful Bettis, R. F. D. No. 1, East Rochester, whom she married Jan. 29, 1905.

Gross neglect of duty and habitual drunkenness for over a period of three years has been set up as a ground for action. Bettis left his wife in October 1928, and recently went to his former home for some chatties. The petition also declares that the defendant had been arrested at Alliance for driving an automobile while intoxicated. The plaintiff and defendant own a farm of 114 acres in West township, and the court has granted a restraining order against the defendant from disposing of his interest in the property.

TRAVELERS CLUB

The Chinese people like peace according to Y. E. Hsiao, of Cleveland, who spoke to the Travelers club and its guests, members of the Book club at a meeting Tuesday afternoon at the Memorial building.

He gave a brief comparison of the customs, mineral wealth and geographical position of China and America.

FARM RELIEF

Young, head of the General Electric company and America's reparation expert; Charles M. Schwab, the retired steel capitalist; President William Green, of the American Federation of labor and other leaders in industry and labor. All were urged to confer with the senate committee at the earliest opportunity.

The invitations were suggested by Senator Thomas (R) of Idaho, and heartily endorsed by other members of the committee. Senator McNary (R) of Oregon, chairman, forwarded the invitations. If the financial and industrial czars accept, an effort will be made to arrange a single conference which all might attend.

If Rockefeller, Morgan, Mellon and Ford sat down at the same table, it would bring $4,000,000,000 of wealth, at least, into a single room.

Represents Great Wealth
If Warburg, Young and Schwab were present too, their combined wealth probably would exceed $5,000,000,000. They would bring, too, the cream of the nation's financial, economic and industrial ability. If they could agree on a single remedy, agriculture undoubtedly would be projected to its economic feet with amazing celerity.

There are several "buts" to the picture. Some members of the senate committee expressed doubt whether the invited guests would come to Washington to help congress draft a farm bill. There was a feeling that, while the economic czars recognized the necessity for stabilizing agriculture, they would feel the problem of formulating relief was outside their provinces.

One beneficial effect of the proposed conference, whether or not they accept their invitations, will be to clear the atmosphere somewhat in congressional circles. For the last four years, congress has attempted to enact the McNary-Haugen bill into law with the much discussed equalization fee as its principal feature.

ENGLISH VESSEL

nicipal ace in the international law sense, and that they are not ready to concede the three-mile limit rule of international law authorizing "hot pursuit," is extended by American statute.

Affront to Flag
On the basis of the Coast Guard's own report, and while the Canadian and British governments are taking issue with the treasury's point of view, and declare the question of an affront to the British flag enters into the case.

A bitter fight in American admiralty courts to upset the treasury department's conception of its rights under tariff act and the British anti-smuggling treaty of 1924, was forecast as a prelude to settlement of the many international aspects of the sinking of the vessel.

The master of the I'm Alone, Capt. John T. Randall, wartime lieutenant commander in the British navy, is being held in $500 bail for trial at New Orleans by the coast guard authorities under charges preferred by the warrant officer commanding the Cutter Dexter.

It was the Dexter which sank the vessel 200 or more miles out in the Gulf of Mexico after the Cutter Walcott had started the pursuit two days before.

Informally, already, state department officials are inclined to accept the British interpretation of territorial jurisdiction ending at the three-mile limit both under international law and the anti-smuggling treaty. The first paragraph of the treaty definitely commits the United States to acceptance of this principle of international law.

COLUMBIANA

He is out on bail at present. Wagner has been a chronic offender and has been convicted and fined twice before, the last time escaping sentence on a legal technicality.

Wednesday evening at Fairfield Centralized school, south of Columbiana, the three-act comedy, "Tommy" will be presented by members of the High school, as follows: Marie Thurber, Margaret Fuhrman; Bernard, Kenneth Reark; Mrs. Wilson, Henrietta Burt; Mr. Thurber, Charles Albright; Mrs. Thurber, Mary Schekley; David Tuttle, Clyde Firestone; Tommy Mills, Marion Ferrall; Judge Wilson, Arthur Sheets.

INSTEAD of exercise

Here's good news for the busy men and women who haven't time to take regular exercise. Millions have already learned how to keep fit with the little exerciser in the vest-pocket box for a dime.

Cascarets make bilious, headachy, constipated people feel fine. Their effect is not only quick, but it's lasting. They give the bowels as much real exercise as you get from an hour's bowling.

Oils, salts and ordinary laxatives don't act like Cascarets. These things produce only mechanical or chemical action. They actually weaken your bowels.

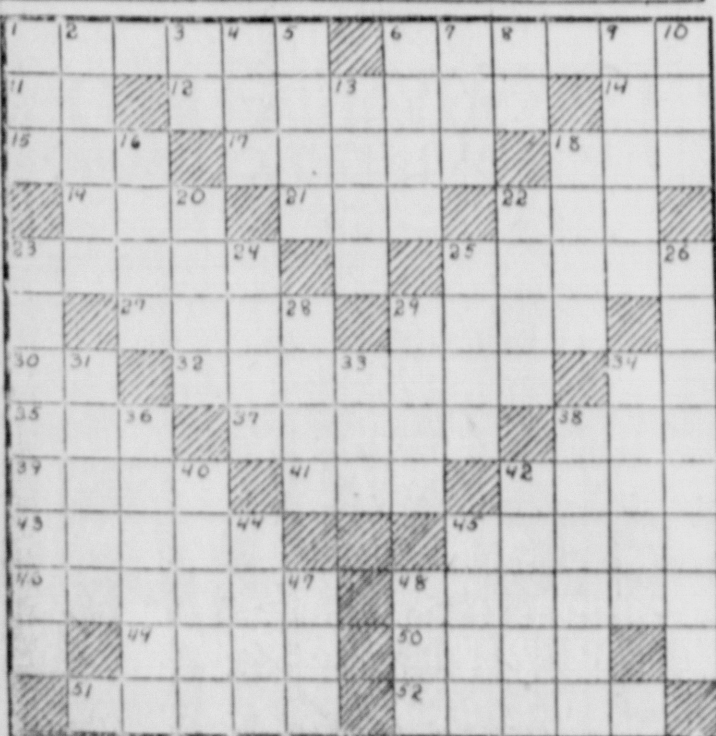

Each time you use Cascarets, your bowels become stronger. Ask your doctor he knows they are made from Cascara Sagrada, which stimulates the peristaltic action and strengthens the bowel muscles. That's why Cascarets are selling at the rate of 20 million packages a year! Adv.

SCHOOL NURSE

 food, sufficient sleep, fresh air, and tidiness. Children Mrs. Kase emphasizes, become interested in health projects and many times the credit for the foundation of good health may be given to work done in schools.

Monthly weighing and "tooth-brush" charts, upon which students record their weights and the number of times they clean their teeth are two important factors in keeping active the health interest.

An average of 65 calls are made to homes during a month by Mrs. Kase, in order to establish a friendly feeling with parents.

Parents are afforded the feeling that schools are interested in more than scholastic development of their children, and in only a few homes is there any resentment shown towards the nurse's work in assisting the child's healthy development.

The work done by Rotary and Kiwanis clubs in providing care for crippled and underprivileged and under-nourished children, was commended by Mrs. Kase. She cited advantages of the camps, promoted during each summer by the organizations, stating that "children certainly show great improvement following a six weeks' stay at the camps, gaining from four to nine pounds in weight and return home in much better health."

The pre-school health conference is held each year previous to opening of school, where parents, who contemplate placing children in school, bring them for a thorough examination is held.

Seiberlings Defeat Business College Again And Win Title

Tires Hold Collegians Safe Throughout Stiff Championship Game

Seiberling Tires, repeating the strong defensive tactics and flashy offensive attack, displayed in the opening game of the city title series, annexed the Salem basketball championship, last night, in their defeat of the Business College, 18-16, at Memorial gym.

The game was almost a repetition of the first contest, except that the Tires' lead throughout the game, was slightly less than in the opener. The collegians never seriously threatened to score consistently from the field, and were outplayed from start to finish.

The Tires' defense held the college basket-makers to four field goals. Two of this total were made from back of the center line, in the fourth quarter, after the Seiberlings had apparently clinched the decision and the city title.

Poor foul-shooting was in the main responsible for the college team's poor showing. Out of 20 chances from the grate stripe, the S. B. C. basket-makers counted only eight good throws, while the Tires manipulated four single-point shows out of possible 12.

The collegians were forced to depend almost entirely on the foul line for points, for in the first three quarters, only one basket was made from action against the Tires. Les Older, formerly the college five's scoring ace, failed to loop in a single fielder until the last three minutes of play. The Seiberlings presented one of the stiffest defenses seen here in years.

Tires Lead Early
The Tires led, 2-1 at the end of the opening quarter, neither team being able to hit the center of the ring for a field bucket. The Seiberlings had plenty of chances, but missed consistently. Three more fouls were added to the collegians' total in the second quarter, while the Tires gathered in two fielders, to lead, 7-4, at the half.

If the college looked back in the opening half, it was played completely off its feet in the third, when the Tires loomed in four buckets from action, before the opposition was able to connect for a single point. The collegians appeared baffled, and unable to get going in the face of the strong defense, but managed to snake in four points before the period ended.

The collegians looked a little more like a championship contender in the final session, which started with the score 15-8, and staged the usual under-dog rally. The Tires took things easy, playing for time, handling the leather safely and cautiously, and counted three points to get a strangle hold on the verdict. The collegians tried hard, but just couldn't seem to make any great amount of headway.

Dodge Upsets
The result of this championship series will probably be recorded in the city's cage annals, as one of the big surprise events of basketball history. The Tires played an indifferent, almost mediocre style of ball all through the second half, finishing in sixth place, and were conceded only the usual about 20 to one outsider's chance to eke out the title.

The opening game, though, showed the Seiberlings in fairly different light, the collegians being outplayed from the opening whistle until the end and the same thing occurred again last night. The Tires didn't look as good in the second

Improvements Planned At Salem Field For Two Leading Events

The invitation of Salem High school, extended to the Columbiana county field and track association, to hold the annual county track meet at Reilly Stadium, on May 11th, was accepted by E. P. Stonebreaker of Leetonia, president, and the event will be held here for the second consecutive year, it was announced Tuesday afternoon by W. J. Springer, principal and athletic director of Salem High.

This assures Salem fans the second of the district's two outstanding spring sporting events. The annual northeastern Ohio district track meet will be held at the new stadium on the Saturday following the county event, May 18th.

The Salem field, almost completed last year, and said to be one of the finest scholastic athletic plants in the state, will be further improved by plans of the board of education materialize this year. Additional sets of concrete bleachers will be constructed, providing seating capacity for approximately 4,000, while the brick wall on the east side of the field will also be built.

Outdoor Practice
Outdoor workouts have been started by Red and Black candidates, and a goodly quantity of lads will have been given their preliminary training by the time the first regular meet with Lisbon rolls around. The annual inter-class competition will be held at Reilly stadium April 12, but the real grueling events as they were figured in past seasons, will not appear until May.

The way things look now, though, all county schools will have a big chance of topping over the Red and Black colors. East Palestine, especially has excellent prospects for a successful season, while several other of the school's trumped on for four straight years by Salem, will have their big chance for revenge.

These district and county meets have always meant the most to the Red and Black trackers, and Coaches Springer and Ruffner hope to have some sort of a squad prepared and ready to bear the responsibilities of winning titles again, by the time these meets will be held. A triangular meet may be again held with Canton McKinley and Akron Central, but most of the work will be delegated towards preparing underclassmen for coming seasons.

The two meets will draw thousands of sport fans to this city on the two days, and complete preparations for a gala occasion at each event are contemplated. Both competitions were held here last season and were considered great successes. Even more successful meets are figured on this year.

With Major Leaguers In Training Camps

New Orleans, March 27.—Eddie Morgan, touted last year as a "natural," is again showing lamentable weakness in judging fly balls and in base running and will probably be farmed out for the season, according to Manager Roger Peckinpaugh of the Cleveland Indians. Last year it was thought he would overcome these weaknesses but he did not and so far this year has shown little improvement. The regulars beat the Yankees in a five inning practice game yesterday. An exhibition game against the New Orleans Pels is scheduled today.

Tampa, Fla. — The Brooklyn Robins met the Washington club again here today, having taken it on the lam yesterday when the Nats came from behind in the ninth to win 7 to 6. Jimmy Pattison, Brooklyn high school boy, pitched so well for four innings that he may be retained.

St. Petersburg, Fla. — As the Yankees practiced today in preparation for the second game of the "spring world series" with the St. Louis Cardinals here tomorrow, Pitches Al Shealy and Fay Thom-

San Antonio, Tex.—The New York Giants will break camp Friday after games here tomorrow and Friday with the Pittsburgh Pirates, their first National league opponents of the season.

Catarrh Is Dangerous Often Weakens the Whole System and Leads to Lung Trouble

When left alone Catarrh often spreads from the nasal passages to the throat and then to the windpipe, bronchial tubes and finally to the lungs themselves. This is one of the greatest dangers attending Catarrh because the victim is thus placed on the very threshold of consumption. Catarrh is very prevalent in this part of the country because of the climate. Medical men say three out of every five people suffer from Catarrh and its symptoms, which are dripping of a pusulent substance from the throat, discharges from the nose, weak watery eyes, headache, hickiness and dryness of the throat, gastritis, ulcerated stomach and constipation.

Victims of Catarrh should start fighting the disease as quickly as they realize they have it, otherwise, serious developments are almost sure to follow.

Many people highly praise World's Tonic for Catarrh and kidney, liver and stomach trouble. It is a systematic treatment and is made for this disease. World's Tonic helps to relieve the distress in the nasal passages and throat and helps stop the spread of Catarrh. At the same time it helps combat Catarrh at its very source, within the system, and is designed to help rid the system entirely of Catarrh.

World's Tonic, the systemic treatment that is doing so much good in Salem and vicinity, is sold by J. H. Lease and all other reliable druggists. (A-147).

"KONJOLA—THAT'S MY ADVISE TO ALL WHO SUFFER"

Happy Lady Tells How New Medicine Put a Quick End to Liver Trouble and Rheumatism

MRS. R. DUNBAR

"I marvel at the powers of this new Konjola," said Mrs. R. Dunbar, Route No. 2, Canton, O. "I find it difficult to believe that two years of suffering from rheumatism has been so quickly and completely ended. For two years I had rheumatic pains all over me, and at times was scarcely able to walk across a room. Then, too, my liver was sluggish and I had frequent dizzy spells. My system was full of impurities, and weakened my general condition."

"A friend suggested that I try Konjola and put it to the test. How this wonderful medicine went to the very root of my troubles was simply astonishing. My improvement was immediate, and day by day I became better and stronger. Today, the rheumatic pains and dizzy spells have vanished, and I can walk around the house all day. Konjola did more than I was told it would do, and I am eager to have this statement made public, as I consider it a duty to tell all the victims of rheumatism of my experience."

Konjola is sold in Salem at J. H. Lease drug stores and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section—adv.

"THE MAN WHO LAUGHS"
From the poignant, sardonic novel by Hugo. "The Man Who Laughs," Paul Leni, the German director recently brought to Hollywood by Universal, has created a striking photoplay. It was shown at the Royal last evening, and in it were revealed imaginative direction, superb acting by Conrad Veidt, colorful pageantry, and an intelligent sense of drama.

Whether it has an ounce of weight at the box office is something the public neither knows nor cares. But its producers may have the satisfaction of knowing that they have presented a courageous and satisfying picture.

There may be a few minor quarrels about the occasional overstylization in the acting and in the settings, a few bickerings over the continuity of the last half, and a few ill-tempered remarks about the necessary condensation, telescoping and alteration of the book. But these may be overlooked in view of the difficulty of squeezing the plot, the billowing social distillates and the human and animal civilization of a Hugo novel into ten short reels of celluloid.

Story
Here, in its most sumptuous production since "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" is told the story of Gwynplaine, the clown who, through a scar carved on his infant face by the child merchants of the days of James II, was forced to laugh at humanity. His love affair with Dea, the blind girl, whose image of him remained that of the little boy, a rag tied across his grinning scar, who had found her in a snowstorm, his adventures with a decadent duchess and his forcible entry into the House of Lords—these well-known adventures are traced effectively in the film at the Royal.

The bitter irony and tragedy of Gwynplaine's life streaked through the film by Mr. Veidt. This is the role recently essayed on the local stages by John Barrymore, whose facial slash was somewhat different from the cavernously carved grin sported by the German star. The set expression of the mouth necessitates Mr. Veidt's projecting everything with the eyes and facial muscles—but even so, his performance is less of a stunt than a truly creative one.

Admirable work is done, too, by Olga Baklanova, late of the Moscow Art Musical studio, as the voluptuous duchess; Mary Philbin as the blind girl and Josephine Crowell as Queen Anne.

At The State

Betty Bronson plays a leading role in "Companionate Marriage" at the State tonight and Thursday.

matic and entertaining exposition of modern social ills. "Companionate Marriage," a First National picture is at the State Theater tonight.

The leading role is played by Betty Bronson, who burst upon an astonished world of cinema fans as Peter Pan in the screen version of Sir James M. Barrie's popular stage fantasy of that title, and who has since appeared in many screen roles.

Playing opposite the petite and charming Miss Bronson is Richard Walling, son of William Walling, pioneer film actor.

William Welsh who played the father in "Over the Hills," again has a role of the same type and scope as Betty Bronson's father in "Companionate Marriage." Arthur Rankin, who scored in "The Volga Boatman" and many other DeMille pictures plays the role of Tommy Cleve.

Screen Newcomer
The role of the jazz-mad girl, scarcely second in importance to that of Miss Bronson, is said to give great histrionic opportunity to little June Nash.

Alec B. Francis is seen in the role of the judge who gives advice in matrimonial tangles—a sort of prototype of Judge Lindsey. Francis is one of the best-known actors on the screen.

Never criticize a man's clothes—he may be supporting an automobile. But even the best dressed man in the county is apt to run short of money some time or other whether he owns a car or a bicycle, and that's just why The City Loan is here. It is loaning money every day to men and women in plain and fancy clothes who are temporarily short of funds. It is spreading its service far and wide throughout the community to help you and thousands of others whenever a small loan will benefit.
